Colorado has a new way to support resident undergraduate education.

It's called the College Opportunity Fund.

The state has always paid a portion of the total cost of higher education for Colorado residents enrolled in any of Colorado's public colleges and universities, and it will continue to do so, but the process has changed.

It's not automatic anymore.

You have to sign up for the College Opportunity Fund. It's easy.

Go to www.collegeincolorado.org

Do it today!
